Systemic Climate Change Litigation against States and Companies : SHUFFLING BETWEEN LIABILITY AND HUMAN RIGHTS

AEDBF is pleased to invite you to its AEDBF Lunch Talk, a free digital event by which we want to update our members on a trending financial law topic.

During this Lunch Talk you will get an insight in the proceedings before the Court of The Hague on the Royal Dutch Shell Company climate case, which was inspired by the Urgenda case against The Netherlands.

On which legal grounds may governments and public or private companies and their shareholders and directors be held liable for their actions or approach towards the climate change ?
